Submissive's Protocol, Etiquette & Safe Words During Scene

Submissive will embody their archetype THROUGHOUT the scene from beginning to end.
Submissive will address their Dom by title at all times.
Submissive will maintain Golden silence and stillness in postures as their default position throughout scene.
Submissive will speak in REQUESTS, SUGGESTIONS & DESIRES, never directly directing their Dom's actions.
Submissive's safewords are GREEN, YELLOW, RED. Green = all good. Yellow = Pause Scene. Red = Scene Over.

Submissive's Ethos

Submissive will enter this scene for a deeper expression of their submissive archetype; they will leave their other archetypes out.
Submissive will embody their 3 Masteries of : FORMALITY. DEVOTION. SERVICE.
Submissive will receive their Dom's energy with Graciousness.
Submissive will diligently balance the energy they receive from their Dom by reciprocating and pouring back into their Dom.
Submissive will enter with desire to surrender to their Dom, and to have their Dom win with them.

Submissive's Psychological Characteristics Relevant To D/s Scene Play & Dynamic

Yes No Do you tend to go into a FREEZE STATE during high sensation or overwhelm?
Yes No Are you carrying/processing trauma from your past?
Yes No Can you be counted on to call your safe words and boundaries in real time?
Yes No Do you tend to reevaluate your consent or decisions after the fact?
Yes No Are you carrying a strong victimhood identity?
Yes No Do you feel well-resourced to deal with any emotions that may arise post-scene?

Post Scene Connection Expectations & Desires:

Yes No I would like our container to close at the end of our current scene.
Yes No I want my Dom to check in with me day after our scene.
Yes No. I want my Dom to be available for extended processing if something's come up for me after scene.
Yes No I would like an ongoing friendship and dynamic aside from our scene play and scene dates.
